

If you have to file a family law case in Nevada, it can be stressful. Whether you are filing for divorce or other domestic disputes, you need to make your lawyer's job easier.

The Rosenblum Allen Law Firm team can help you file your family law case in Nevada. There are several things you can do to assist us in preparing your case.

The following is a checklist to help you file your family law case.

How Can You Help Your Family Law Attorney?

The biggest help you can give your attorney is to provide them with all the documentation they need.

Financial Reports

Any financial information needs to get documented and copies presented to your attorney. This includes:

- Individual tax returns from the last 3-5 years
- Business income records from the previous 3-5 years
- Proof of both your and your spouse's current income
- Bank statements
- Trusts and bonds
- Pension and retirement statements
- Stock portfolios and options
- Mortgage statements
- Financial budgeting documents
- Credit card and loan statements
- Bill statements (utilities, tuition, medical bills, etc.)
- Employment statements and contracts
- Contents of safety deposit boxes

Statements of Property

You also need to have statements of any property you or your spouse own. This is especially important for assets that you share.

- List of Personal Property:
 - ◇ Home furnishings
 - ◇ Artwork
 - ◇ Computers
 - ◇ Jewelry
 - ◇ Clothing
 - ◇ Home office equipment

- Property Owned before marriage
- Personal property appraisals
- Real estate property appraisals

Insurance/Benefits Statements

Any benefits that you have from your employers need to get documented. If you or your partner receive continued help, you need to document it.

- Life insurance policies
- Health insurance policies
- Automobile policies
- Homeowner insurance policies

Legal Documentation

Several other forms of legal documentation are beneficial for your family law attorney. This will help us to understand some of the details of your marriage that may get brought up.

- Wills
- Living Wills
- Prenuptial agreements
- Divorce decrees from previous marriages
- Power of Attorney
- Advance Healthcare Directives

This checklist will help your family law attorney to do their job in the best way to serve you. Your attorney can also advise you on any other documentation to support your case.
